We are starting advertising Monday for a mass tort involving da Vinci Robotic surgeries. Please find attached the new form to be completed for these intakes. Please be sure you are filling out these forms in their entirety since Corey Watson relies upon them heavily to open their cases.

Da Vinci Robotic surgeries are being conducted across the country and are being very heavily utilized in Ohio. The machines are $2 million and are sold to hospitals under the auspices that they are better for the patients because they are less invasive. Basically, the surgeon stands behind a control panel, and while looking at a screen, "tells" the robot what to do. They are primarily used to perform hysterectomies, prostate removal, gastric bypasses, gall bladder removals and thyroid cancer surgeries. As you can imagine, the learning curve on the devices are quite high (the company's literature indicates that it can take a surgeon upwards of 250 to 750 surgeries to master the robot's use). Various injuries can be caused including burns from the electrical currents jumping out of the robot to tearing, puncturing and perforations of nearby organs and tissue.

Starting Monday, the intake department will obtain basic background information from callers who are responding to our ads. There is a "DVR" case type which will be used. Attached is a screening form to be used by the attorneys when intake refers the da Vinci caller to an attorney.

Once the intake screening form is completed by the attorney, an investigator will handle the signups. They will have our fee agreement signed and leave a more detailed medical questionnaire for the client to complete. We will be teaming with Corey Watson in the handling of these cases, which is disclosed to the client on the fee agreement. However, for purposes of intake calls we are simply to advise the caller that we are the firm handling these cases, and not mention any co-counsel or the Corey Watson firm.

If you have any questions please see me, Rob, John or Holly.

Thank you!

This happens frequently so we wanted to address this with all of you. When doing an intake, just bc they tell you they are treating with pcp, doesn't mean you shouldn't refer to a chiro. Always refer to a Chiro bc they can do both.

This is especially an issue in Youngstown.

We MUST send an investigator to sign up clients!! We cannot refer to Chiro and have them sign forms there. This is why we have investigators. We are losing too many cases doing this!!!!!!

If a client is already at the chiro's office then of course it is ok. Other than that send an investigator.

No faxing or emailing forms unless it is approved by Rob, Robert or I.

I have spent a significant amount of my day fixing referral mistakes. PLEASE make sure the information that you give and receive is listed on the intake sheet. Just this month alone there were 13 mistakes made by your regarding the referred to's. This cannot happen. I work hard to maintain a close relationship with chiropractors and I am in contact with most of them several times a day.

Furthermore, every single intake that gets done by attorneys, an email should be sent indicating what the referral is, where the case is referred to and how/when/who is signing case.

Intake, when an attorney does an intake for companions and they note they referred all clients to a chiropractor, make sure you are adding this info to ALL companions, unless it is a minor and the minor isn't going to the chiro. If you have questions about this, please ask the attorney.

Rob....could u please call her? According to Minas.....Alyssa explained settlement to her. She kept mentioning Alyssa over and over.

Alyssa....DO NOT ever discuss settlement proceeds to a client. This is the attorney's job, not yours!!!!!! If a client starts asking questions, the call goes to Josh.

I CANNOT express enough the importance of making sure that the referred by's are correct (regardless if it's chiros, directs, etc). I have been having to chase these down daily and correct A LOT of them.

If they received a direct mail YOU MUST ASK if they received a red bag on their door or if they received a mailer in their mailbox. They all have DVD's, magnets, etc so you MUST specify red bag or in the mailbox. There is a difference.

Thanks.

It's time we cross the threshold of 600 cases!!! We've been so close the last two months. This can only happen if you're roping in companions. Intake, ASK the caller when you're doing your initial intake if anyone was in the car with them and note it. I just reviewed an intake that Megan Underwood did and right at the bottom of the intake she noted, <sup>3</sup>no other passengers in the car.<sup>2</sup> I want to see this on every intake. Attorneys, it is your job to rope these in. Also, make sure you're setting all referrals up with chiros and noting it on the intake sheet and in the email.
